

Bosch receives energy efficiency Kitemark

For a long time, Bosch has been working hard to save energy reducing costs and their carbon emissions. The British Standards Institute has externally verified Bosch's activities, which have awarded RBGB its prestigious Kitemark

RBGB has had its energy reductions externally verified over the last three years. Many companies claim to be saving energy and make "Green" claims, but RBGB has gone one-step further and has proved it.

Bosch sales and marketing teams may receive information requests from customers about our energy saving or CO2 reduction activities. Telling them about this award will provide the evidence they need that we take our environmental responsibilities seriously. Bosch in the UK has legal obligations under the Carbon Reduction Commitment (CRC) Regulations. The Kitemark helps Bosch prove that we have taken early action, even before these Regulations came into force, which further enhances our credibility and reputation.
